

THE YELLIN CENTER

FOR MIND, BRAIN, AND EDUCATION

FULL-TIME PSYCHOLOGIST (SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGISTS ENCOURAGED TO APPLY)

The Yellin Center for Mind, Brain, and Education, a New York City-based independent educational assessment practice, is seeking a psychologist to join our multidisciplinary clinical team for comprehensive diagnostic assessments and ongoing care of children and young adults with learning challenges.

Responsibilities include:

- Conducting psychoeducational and other assessments as part of a highly-collaborative interdisciplinary clinical team
- Writing comprehensive reports and participating in the development of learning plans.
- Conducting social-emotional assessments
- Working with students of all ages and grade levels, and from a variety of settings
- Collaborating with colleagues across disciplines to elucidate profiles of strengths and challenges and develop individualized treatment plans
- Developing and refining assessment tools and procedures

Successful applicants should meet the following qualifications:

- Deep commitment to supporting academic success in children and young adults
- Master's degree or higher in school psychology or related field
- Experience conducting psychoeducational assessments
- Excellent writing, communication, and interpersonal skills
- Strong work ethic and highest professional and ethical standards

Additional valued attributes:

- Familiarity with a broad range of assessment tools
- Experience in the diagnosis and treatment of a wide range of challenges, including mathematics, reading, writing, attention, and executive function
- Strong interest in neuroscience and innovative educational practices
- Familiarity with current and emerging instructional programs and technology
- Able to consistently make thoughtful decisions under pressure
- Comfortable working in small teams
- Excellent rapport with wide range of ages
- Familiar with legal framework that governs educational support
- Readiness-to-learn
- Long-term commitment
- Entrepreneurial spirit
- Creativity, flexibility, and sense of humor

This is a full-time position based in Manhattan, NY.

Competitive salary and benefits are offered.

Salary Range: $70-$100K (dependent on level of experience).

Interested parties should send resume and cover letter to info@yellincenter.com and include "Psychologist" in the subject.